The Donkey in the Lion's Skin

A small Donkey once found a Lion's skin which the hunters had left out in the sun to dry. He put it on and went towards his native village. All fled at his approach, both men and animals, and he was a proud little Donkey that day. In his delight he lifted up his voice and brayed, but then everyone knew him, and his owner came up and gave him a sound beating for the fright he had caused. And shortly afterwards a Fox came up to him and said: 'Ah, I knew you by your voice.'

Moral: Fine clothes may disguise, but silly words will disclose a fool.

How times have changed. Our beloved Prophet (s.a.w) used to wear clothing with patches (which he stitched himself). Today people in so called "Islamic clothing" sell our Deen for some worldly gain like the people of the Book of past. Do not be fooled by the outer wear or judge a person on looks, rather look at the speech and action. A person without a beard can be pious as one with the Waajib beard. One can give a fantastic speech but actions speak louder than words.
